Market Dealers Organize. The market dealers met last night at National Commandery Hall, 623 Louisiana avenue, and formed a market dealers' association. Its objects will be for the cooperation of the dealers in all the markets in the District, irrespective of line of busi-1ess. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m., and Mr. J. K. Mangum of the Center market was elected temporary chairman, who stated that the call had been issued for the purpose as stated above, and also advocated making the organization beneficiary, as well as for business pur-poses; Mr. Wm. Monroe was made tem-porary secretary. A committee was ap-pointed, consisting of Wm. A. Thompson, Robt. Bowdler, Walter Carter, E. Price Brown, F. L. Summy and J. K. Mangum, to draft a constitution and by-laws for the governing of the organization, said committee to report at the next meeting, two weeks from date, when the election of officers will be held.

Death of a Noble Woman. Jane O. Mahon, wife of David W. Mahon formerly first auditor of the treasury, died yesterday at her residence, 1822 I street childhood. She had reached the ripe age of reventy-three, and ner life had been devoted to Christian charitable works. Her heart and hand gave freely and liberally to the poor, not at certain seasons, but at all seasons and to all classes and condi-tions. She was the founder and president of the "Needlework Guild" of this city, one est useful charities ever organized. Such has been its influence that it has spread to other cities, north, south, east and west, embracing among the beneficiartes white and colored poor, and supported by the best citizens wherever located. She was a woman of roble character, and will be sadly missed, not only by the poor, but by a large circle of friends who knew and loved her dearly.

The Golden Cross. At the meeting of Mount Vernon Commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross, Monday evening, Noble Commander W. H. Main presided. One application for membership was presented, and one candidate was elected to receive the degrees. Miss Florence Lugenbeel was elected warder of the inner gate, and was installed Into that office by Deputy Grand Commander C. G. Harrison. Interesting remarks under the good of the order were made by Noble Commander Main, M. L. Venable, David Cranmer, C. G. Harrison and others. The grand officers will officially visit Anacostia Commandery this evening, at Ma-sonic Hall, Anacostia, and a large attend-ance of members from the city comman-deries is expected.

Dr. Todd Lectures Tonight.

Rev. Elbert E. Todd, D. D., will deliver in Hamline M. E. Church, this evening, for the first time, a lecture which he has prepared on the subject, "The Israel of the Alps.

Dr. Todd has made a careful study of the Swiss people, their customs, history and traditions, and last summer spent much time and labor in Switzerland, engaged in this study. His lecture will be illustrated by seventy stereopticon views of Alpine scenery and history, and will doubtless prove highly entertaining and instructive. The proceeds of the lecture are to be chiefly applied to the enterprise, inaugu-rated by the Hamline Chapter of the Ep-rated by the Hamline Chapter of the i worth League, of repainting the church.

A Presperous Condition.

The quarterly meeting of the Rochdale Co-operative Society was held last night at Typographical Temple, and the reports made by the various officers showed a very prosperous condition of affairs. The recelpts from the sale of tickets for the past three months were $337.35. The member-ship of the society is now 5,350, and it is probable a public meeting will be shortly held, which all the members vill be urged to attend.

SUSPICIOUS PERSONS

More People Than Would Be Supposed Have Money.

Local Endeavors to Find the Aquia Creek Train Robbers - A Trip to Laurel.

Local officers, saloon keepers and keepers clue which might lead to the capture of one suspicious person found is arrested. The investigation has developed a number of persons with more money than the police or any one else would ever suspect. Some of them have been in the "Division" and actually thrown away some of their money. Hardly a day has passed since the robbery that a report of some spendthrift being about the city has not been received by the police. Early this morning word was received by Precinct Detective Helan that two men had been spending money freely about bar rooms, and, as in all other re-ports of the kind, it was stated that one of been seen spending money, was released later in the day.

The strange young man arrested on a Baltimore and Ohio train at an early hour yesterday morning on suspicion, as pubyesterday morning on suspicion, as published in yesterday's Star, was arraigned in Judge Miller's court this morning for concealed weapons, to which charge he plead guilty. He was also charged, under the vagrancy act, with being a suspicious per-

Detective Green of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who made the arrest, produced the thirty-eight-caliber pistol and two rounds of cartridges taken from the prisoner, and he also showed the note book found on

The officer told the judge of the circumstances under which the arrest was made, and told of his conversation with the prisoner on the car. He was found on the front end of the express car, as stated yes-terday, and the officer told the court that the glass in the car door was broken, although he could not say that the prisoner Judge Miller did not believe the man had given his right name, but the prisoner de-clared that John Smith is his right name. He told the judge that he was born in Auburn, Me., and he has lived at Lewiston and Biddeford. Although he claimed to have lived in these places most of his life he was unable, he said, to give the names of acquaintances.

Ther he said he didn't know what his life in Maine had to do with his conduct here. But Judge Miller told him he would give him an opportunity to give a good ac-count of himself if he cared to do so, and he could do as he thought best about it. According to Smith's statement he has not a relative in the world, nor has he any

The keys found on him, he said, were for doors of a shop where he had worked, and there was also a key to his post office box in Biddeford.

Judge Miller imposed a sentence of four months in fail in the pistol case, and sus-pended sentence in the other case. Prosecuting Attorney Mullowny will communicate with the postmaster at Bilde-ford to ascertain the truth of the prisoner's story concerning the key to the post office box, and the response will have some bear-ing on the final disposition of the case.

A Rumor.

Last evening it was rumored that several suspects had been arrested at Laurel, Md., and the little country town was visited last night by a number of reporters, who learned from Bailiff Robey that there had not been an arrest made there for several days. Four reporters, who reached the town about 9 o'clock, stopped at the newspaper office to get some information, but the editor had gone home, and there was not even a light in the office.
On the second floor of the building, how ever, the reporters walked in on the officers of the building association, who were counting the cash of the association, and the appearance of the clerks indicated that northwest. She had lived here since early they thought the strangers were probably rain robbers, and that their funds would fare the fate of the express com-

WALTER DAMROSCH COMING.

He Will Open the National Lyceum Course With a Lecture on Wagner. The National Lyceum Bureau received a etter this morning from Mr. Damrosch, naming the date when he will deliver his lecture in the National Lyceum course. Mr. Damrosch writes that he will open the course on December 5. This very nearly completes the program, only two attractions now being in doubt because of a possible conflict of dates. The program as now arranged is as follows: Walter Damrosch's lecture, December 5; the Mozart Symphony Club, or another first-class conert attraction, December 10; Lewis Harvey Finney's lecture on "The Glories of the Nile," December 26; Jennie O'Nelil Potter (subject to a possible change of date), Jan-uary 2; the Wesleyan College Glee and Mandolin Clubs, January 9; Mary Proctor's lecture on "The Solar System," January 16; George Riddle's readings, January 30; the Coorge Rindie's readings, January 30; the Ojlie Torbett Concert Company (including the Swed sh sextet and a well-known planist), February 6; H. H. Ragan's new lecture on "The Footprints of Washington," February 13, and a good concert company,

There was some doubt at first where the entertainments would be held, as the sub-scription promised to be too large for Metz rott Music Hall. The managers of the Ly eum Bureau, however, determined to en age Metzerott's, and limit the subscrip tions to the capacity of that hail. This itmit has almost been heached. Subscriptions may still be made, however, at room 42. Metzerott building.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Decline in the Death Rate During the Past Week. In face of the cold and changeable weather, which prevailed last week, there was a decided decline in the number of deaths, as against that of the previous week. The decrease amounted to nearly 20 per cent, and the death rate fell from 21.7 to 17.5 in that time. The improvement was general. There were very many less deaths, comparatively, among both the aged over sixty years and the children under five years old. There was a continued absence of fatal forms of contagious diseases, except the six cases of diphtheria and of the va-rious malarial aliments. The health of the city is good and the present hygienic conditions are only a continuance of the same favorable state characterizing the present fiscal year. During the last year there were four hundred and thirteen less deaths than in the preceding year, and the returns of the first quarter of the present fiscal year show a falling off of one hundred and twenty-eight up to the first day of this

AMUSEMENTS.

Robert Mantell.-Robert Mantell is always interesting, for, added to his natural gift as an actor, he has a fine intelligence, comprehends the spirit of the characters which he impersonates and portrays them with fidelity to their creator. He will begin a week's ergagement at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, opening with his successful play of "Monbars," which will likewise be given at the Wednesday matinee. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings the romantic six-act drama, "The Corsican Brothers," will be given, to be followed by "Parrhasius" on Wednesday evening, "Hamof other public places are on the alert for a let" on Friday, with a matinee Saturday of "Romeo and Juliet." This will be the first or more of the train robbers, and every performance of "Parrhasius" in this city and will be the theatrical novelty of his week's engagement. The piece has scored a great hit wherever it has been produced. Every care and attention will be paid to the proper rendering of these plays. New and handsome scenery, properties and costumes have been provided, and the supporting company is an unusually strong one, headed by Miss Charlotte Rebrens

Richelieu.-Last night Messrs. Warde and soration is a consistent carrying out of his conception of the character. > assured success, a filled house expecting to welcome the phenomenal singer and her company. Her compass of voice of nearly four octaves seems almost beyond compre-hension, and has excited much incredulous comment. If, however, the enthusiastic re-ports of the New York Herald, Musical Courier and other leading papers are to be credited, a rare treat may be expected. Miss Yaw will sing Alabreff's "Russian Nightingale," Dell'Acqua's "Villanelle," Proch's Theme and Variations, Eckert's Swiss Echo Song, especially arranged for her, and an "Ave Maria," adapted from the mtermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana," with violin obligato. Miss Georgiella Lay, pianist, will play Liszt's Hungarian Rhap-sody, No. 10; Joseffy's "At the Spring," and Chopin's Nocturne in A flat. Mr. Maximilian Dick, violinist, will give Vieuxtemp's Ballad and Polonaise, Buzzini's "Ronde des Lu-tines" and Sauret's "Capricietto."

Carroll Institute Orchestra.-The first Orchestra will occur this evening in Carroll Institute Hall, on 10th street between New York avenue and K street northwest. The orchestra will be assisted by Mrs. Kitty Thompson-Berry, soprano; Miss Claudia Moore, contraito; Mr. Charles Moore, Mr. Melville Hensey: Mr. William Waldecker. ecompanist, and the Columbia Mandolin

Hyde's Comedians,-Hyde's comedians, with Miss Helen Mora, will be the attrac-tion at Kernan's Lyceum Theater next week. This well-known organization is even stronger than ever. Manager Hyde has surrounded his "star" with artists whose prominence in the profession has been at-tained by their ability to amuse the public. Miss Helen Mora, the phenomenal lady baritone, has an entirely new repertoire of descriptive songs. Others in the company are the Brothers Dixon, in their novel musical act; Johnnie Ray, the eccentric comedian; Alburtrus and Bertram, the club experts; the Electric Quartet, in selections, imitations, etc.; Harris and Walters, the eminent sketch artists; Harry Warner, the little wit; the Edisons, in refined comedy; Thompson and Collins, the comedians, and Richard Snow, the scientific genius, An Enjoyable Concert.—An enjoyable con-cert was given last evening in the Eastern Presbyterian Church, 6th street and Mary land avenue northeast, for the benefit of the choir fund. There was a large attendance and the numbers which were rendered by were greatly enjoyed. Among those who took part were Miss Amy Shedd, Mrs. Nellie Cate Patterson, Miss Eleanore Simonds, Mrs. B. H. Close of a Successful Fair.

The fair for the benefit of the Church of the Holy Name, which has been in progress at Carroll Institute Hall during the past two weeks, was brought to a close last evening. It is thought that $4,000 was real ized. The guests of the evening were the nembers of the Knights of St. John, Comnandery No. 248, of the Holy Name parish. An auction sale ended the evening, and caused considerable amusement. The winners of the various prizes were as follows: Gold-headed cane, Father Doyle of St. Aloysius' parish; picture, ploneer forest scene, J. E. FOR THE NEEDY.

Report of the Work of the Women's Christian Association, The annual report of the Women's Christian Association was submitted to the Commissioners today through Col. Tracey, superintendent of charities. The home building is situated at No. 1719 13th street, between R and S,and stands in ample grounds. A temporary home is given to needy women while seeking employment. Six old ladies are cared for during advancing age. The home is undenominational, and has accommodations for fifty or sixty women. Out of 400 women who were helped and sheltered during the year over 100 were from the District, and 101 found employment. The average number in the home is fifty-five. Each woman is given the help which would seem to be best to enable her to take care of herself, and to find some place of usefulness which she can ill. All are encouraged to do their best, and help and sympathy are generously given. Outdoor visits are made, and many needy, suffering women are shown how to make the best of their scanty means, while being helped to tide over some special season of want and sick-ness. During the year ending June 30, 1804, 112 found employment.

The total number admitted to the home in 1893 was 404. This includes nineteen mothers and their infants. The largest number were received in the month of March, the smallest in May. A large num-ber of these women are dependent upon ber of these women are dependent upon charity of the home. Some have been supported by the churches to which they be-leng, while six are enrolled as life residents; e'ghteen have been sent to the several hos-pitals for temporary care, and fourteen have been assisted to return to their friends. During the year there was served 55,515 meals, of which 14,757 were free, 25,264 were paid for, 9,482 were worked for, and the remainder (6,012) were served to paid employes of the home. The number of lodgings furnished amounted to 18,691. The general health of the family throughout the year has been good. Four adults and two crildren have died.

During the year just closing the visiting committee have distributed groceries, fuel and other necessaries amounting in value to over $200; have made 150 visits, given out seventy-seven good, warm garments, seventy of which were perfectly new and the gift of that excellent charity in this city known as "The Needlework Guild," and for which generous departed that generous donation they have returned their sincere gratitude and thanks. The receipts and expenditures of the association during the year were as follows: On hand July 1, 1893, private funds, $1,-146.53. Received during the year as follows: From government appropriation, $4,000; from pay of inmates for board and admission fees, $2,929.75; from donations and other sources, $393.93; total receipts, $8,470.21.

There were expended the following sums

For salaries and wages, $1,176.25; for all other items of maintenance, including repairs, etc., $5,734.33; total expenditures, $6,910.58, Balance remaining on hand June 30, 1894, $1,559.63.

Off With the Theater Hat.

To the Editor of The Evening Star: I dare not hope-and yet, why shouldn't it be? Haven't we for years patiently and despairingly sat at the theater behind studies in feathers, flowers, ribbons and lace, and, in consequence of these works of art, have seen about one-half of what we have paid to see? I am glad that some one has started the cry again, "Down with hats in front," and I cannot refrain from expressing my approbation of the idea. I read A. C. E.'s letter in The Evening Star of the 16th instant with pleasure. The writer of it has not only suffered from hav-ing his or her view obstructed by hats in ing his or her view obstructed by hats in this country, but has just returned from Englard, where, we are told, our "English cousins" have a part of their theaters reserved where no hats are allowed. I can conceive of no well grounded reason or argument that could be advanced against a rule prohibiting hats in the orchestra chairs, and I am very sure every theater-goer would hall such a reform with delight. If there is any one who objects, let us hear the objections, and if the noes are silent the aves have it

Every well appointed theater has a ladies' dressing room, and if a lady wishes to leave her hat there she can do so for a small consideration, or she can wear a scarf or small hat which she can hold in her lap. I appeal to the women of Washington and sak them to advece to this reington, and ask them to advocate this reform. It should appeal both to their sel-fish and unselfish nature; if this reform is adopted they will see better and will not obstruct the view of others. Now, let some obstruct the view of others. Now, let some progressive Washington theatrical manager start this blea, and beside placing himself in the list of philanthropists he will also be the means of adding materially to the beauty of the audience. SEE AND LET OTHERS SEE.

LITTLE BABY WAS RAW.

DISTRESSING SKIN DISEASE FROM BIRTH. CURED IN FIVE WEEKS BY CUTICURA .-NOW HEALTHY AS CAN BE.

My baby boy had been suffering from birth with some sort of an eruption. The doctors called it eczema. His little neck was one raw and exposed mass of red, inflamed flesh. His arms and across and under his thighs, wherever the fat flesh made a fold, were just the same. For four weeks after his birth he suffered with this eruption, and until I got the CUTICURA REMEDIES there was little sleep for any one. In five weeks he was completely cured. He was nine weeks old February 1, and you ought to see his skin now, smooth, even and a beautiful pink and white color He is as healthy as he can be. The CUTICURA RESOLVENT has given him tone, vigor and strength. I inclose his portrait. WM, A. GARDNER, 184 E. 123d st., New York
